Things in Europe.

It was long questioned whether, indeed, hostilities would actually break out between even Russia and Turkey. It was asserted that diplomacy and red tape would settle the whole matter; but diplomacy and red tape have failed, and the question now is, not whether there shall be war at all, for that has been settled by the occurrence of actual hostilities, but whether the war already known to exist, shall be confined to its present limits, or shall become general, involving all the leading powers of Europe. The professed object of England and France, is to obtain such an authoritative decision of the other four powers, to wit : - France, England, Austria and Prussia, as shall compell the belligerents to a peaceful settlement upon a basis agreed upon by the four powers; and, ostensibly for this purpose, a treaty has been negotiated in London between England & France, and the co-operation of the German powers invited. On the other hand, the Emperor of Russia is equally opposed to the war's becoming general. He has long been seeking an occasion of war under the pretext of which to seize upon Constantinople, and is no doubt confident of being able to do so if left undisturbed to pursue his ambithan that weakened power can offer. MR HUTCHESON-Dear Sir :- I feel it to be my duty to say a word upon the merits of your Celebrated Ointment. I am constrained from experience, to pronounce it the best Healing and Pan Gilling Agent I have even seen employed. A few month since, my little son got one of his legs broken, after which short time since, a member of my family was taken with malignant sore throat, and I unhesitatingly say that, with one hour after the first application, he was almost entire relieved. I write for the benefit of the suffering.
